Freeport Director Who Participated in Riots Is Suspended for Three Years—Moll Gets $500

There were other interesting developments in the annual meeting of the Wisconsin league directors at Milwaukee, beside the re-election of old officers and the retention of the present organization.

President Charles Moll was given a present of $500 besides his regular salary for his efficient work during the season, and the name of the league was changed to the Wisconsin-Illinois league of professional baseball clubs, on request of Freeport, which is in Illinois.

Winona Sought La Crosse's Place. Although representatives were present from Duluth, Rockford, Ill., Beloit and Janesville to press their claims for franchises in the league it was decided not to break up the present circuit. Winona was anxious to get the La Crosse franchise as the attendance in the western Wisconsin city was poor during the last year. La Crosse was one of the charter members of the league, however, and the other club owners would not listen to the proposition.

The meeting was a harmonious one, the only disagreeable feature arising being a resolution which was adopted censuring Director McCarthy of the Freeport club for his actions during the recent trouble between La Crosse and Freeport in the latter city.

ALL READY FOR
WORLD'S SERIESOPENER AT WEST SIDE PARK,
CHICAGO, TODAY

THIRD TO FIFTH AT DETROIT

Teams Then Return to Chicago for Sixth and if Seventh Is Necessary Another City.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Everything is ready for the world's championship series, which opens here today between the Detroit Americans and the Chicago Cubs of the National league, and one of the greatest crowds which has ever witnessed.

McCarthy was also disqualified from holding any official position with the Freeport club for a period of three years.

Several league questions were discussed, and a suggestion was made that the schedule be cut to 112 games instead of 126. Under this arrangement each club would make a trip but twice a season around the circuit, playing four games in each town instead of three. This would cut the transportation expenses to a minimum.

The league has had the best season in its history, according to the various club owners and even a better year is anticipated in 1908. There was a spirit of good fellowship at the meeting which is usually lacking at baseball meetings, the Wausau club even making the motion that Freeport be awarded the pennant when a protest was looked for in that direction.

WOMEN'S NERVES
CURED BY FRUITSimple Mixture of Tropical Fruits
Which Works Wonders in the Cure of Chronic Constipation,
Nervous Weaknesses,
Weak Backs, Etc.Anyone Can Mix the Remedy at Home.

A remarkable remedy has been discovered which is wonderful in its simplicity and still more wonderful in its life-giving effects upon the nervous system and the health in general.

Among women, especially, it has been found to give most excellent results, particularly because women's nerves as a rule are more sensitive to overwork and the exactions of social life, and are most susceptible to bodily derangements.

As this remedy is already endorsed by high authority, we earnestly recommend to all our women readers that they use this prescription steadily for a short time and note its quick and permanent life-giving, strengthening effects.

Besides curing the worst cases of chronic constipation quickly and naturally, this simple remedy will also build up the worn-out nerves, make new nerve-tissue and healthy flesh, and fill out thin, scrawny forms. The result is a complete restoration to vigorous womanhood.

The prescription is as follows: Mix one ounce of Obifruit Compound Extract with seven ounces of port wine or unfermented grape juice. Of this mixture, take a dessertspoonful three or four times a day, after each meal and at bedtime.

These ingredients can be obtained at any drug store. The mixture should be taken regularly. It contains no alcohol, no narcotics and no mineral or animal matter whatever and is absolutely harmless.

Overworked, run-down, sickly, nerve-broken women will find this simple remedy superior to any patent medicine or nerve tonic so far known.

Any drug store has Obifruit Compound Extract and unfermented grape juice or port wine on hand.

nenced a baseball game is expected to be on hand.

The commission has decided all of the details and the schedule of the games has been announced as follows:

Tuesday, Oct. 8, Chicago; Wednesday, Oct. 9, Chicago; Thursday, Oct. 10, Detroit; Friday, Oct. 11, Detroit; Saturday, Oct. 12, Detroit; Sunday, Oct. 13, Chicago.

By agreement of all of the clubs representing both leagues, the rules already existing, governing the playing of the championship series, were amended so that 60 per cent of the balance from the first four games played shall form a pool for the players of the two teams, 60 per cent of this amount to go to the winning and 40 per cent to the losing teams.

The schedule as adopted was determined by lot. If any of the games scheduled are postponed on account of rain or for any other reason, the teams are required to play the postponed game on the first day available at the same park.

If a seventh game is necessary to decide the series, the city in which it is to be played will be decided by the commission. The players eligible to play in the championship series were designated as follows:

Chicago team—Brown, Chance, Durbin, Evers, Fraser, Hoffman, Howard, Lundgren, Kling, Moran, McCormick, Overall, Oik, Pfeister, Reulbach, Sheppard, Slagle, Schute, Steinfeldt, Tinker, Walsh and Zimmerman.

Detroit team—Archer, Cobb, Coughlin, Crawford, Donovan, Downs, Jones, Jennings, Killian, Lowe, Mullin, McIntyre, Payne, O'Leary, Rossman, Schmidt, Sievers, Schaefer and Willett.

President Pulliam of the National league selected Henry Clay as umpire for his organization during the series. President Johnson of the American league named John P. Sheridan. The official scorers selected by the commission were A. J. Flanner and F. C. Richter. The scale of prices for admission to the games was fixed at $1, $1.50 and $2 for Chicago, and $1, $2 and $2.50 for Detroit. The reason for the lower prices at Chicago was the large seating capacity of the Chicago park. The games will be called at 2:30 in Chicago and at 2 o'clock in Detroit.

RIPON GLAD OF STAR'S RETURN

RIPON, Wis., Oct. 8.—Ripon college is rejoicing in the addition to its athletic teams of a former star, Charles Pickert of Berlin, who has returned to complete his course here, after a year's absence. He can graduate with the present senior class. If Pickert had been with Ripon last spring the local college would probably have won the triangular, as he is one of the strongest all around athletes in Wisconsin college life. He played on the 1905 football team as guard, and as a member of the 1906 track team broke the Ripon record for the high hurdle, which he placed at 17 3/5 seconds, being lowered last spring to 17 1/5 seconds by Joe Sweetland. Pickert also broke the college running broad jump record, placing it at 21 feet 4 1/5 inches. He is in better form than ever and will try to lower his own good records the coming year.

MANY HOLES IN
VARSITY LINE-UPPRESENT TEAM FALLS BEFORE
FRESHMAN SCRUBS

CHANGES BY COACH HUTCHINS

Line Is Weak and Much Strengthening
Will Be Necessary Before a
Winning Team Is Sure

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—There are so many holes in Wisconsin's various football line-ups just now that something will have to be doing for the next few days, and that is just what is promised by Coach Hutchins. There was a little kicking and running yesterday afternoon, but practice was limited because of the rain.

The discovery of the holes was made Saturday afternoon when the freshmen drubbed the temporary—or "tentative"—varsity eleven to the tune of 4 to 0. It was a drop kick by "Keckie" Moll that did the business, but Keckie, with only the light freshmen behind him, had no chance to get so close to the goal. The lightweight kids found holes in tackle and went through that part of the lineup at will. As a result, Mr. Stiehm—who bumed practice the other day, has been put through a course of sprouts that is calculated to kill the fliriting microbe of a freshman.

Messmer and Murphy showed up best after Dr. Hutchins had talked his blue streak, and it is confidently expected that the weaknesses will be patched up shortly.

The varsity's great lack is in a perfect understanding of signals. Banging several times lost the first eleven chances to gain huge gobs of space.

Stiehm also has been put on the rack because he so far forgot himself as to slug a freshe in Saturday's practice. The freshe hit back and a free-for-all was stopped only by the interference of Assistant Coach McCarthy, who handed out a bunch of choice Tipperary brogue. The present lineup of the varsity team is:

Of these, Captain Messmer is easily the hardest worker, and he is responsible for much of their vim and pep.

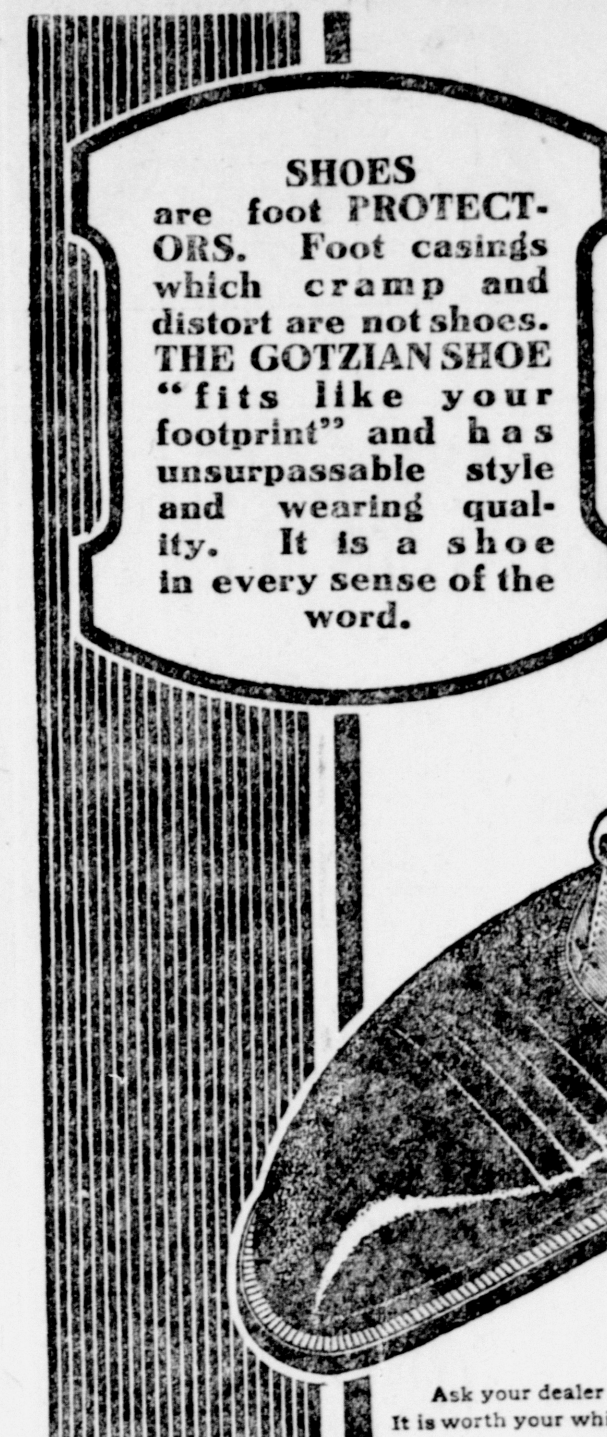

TO THE NATIONAL CORN EXPO-
SITIONVia Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul
Ry.

The National Corn Exposition will be held in the Coliseum at Chicago, October 5 to 19th. It will be the largest exposition of its kind ever held and interesting to all, but particularly to corn growers and those in any way concerned in corn. Over $50,000 in farms, pianos, buggies, dinner sets, watches, etc., will be given to exhibitors in the state classes, which are not open to professionals. Over $16,000 in cash prizes alone will be given on ten and thirty-car exhibits. A special prize of $1,000 will be given for the best fifty (50) ears of corn shown at the exposition. Numerous other prizes will be awarded for other exhibits in connection with the growing of corn.

Numerous special attractions have been arranged for, such as the "March of Corn" and an old-fashioned husking bee and dance. Something special will be going on all the time. Music in the afternoon and evening will be furnished by the Illinois Naval Reserve Band.

Excellent train service to Chicago is offered by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway. Buy round trip tickets, good to return any time within thirty days. See nearest ticket agent for information on rates and train service. F. A. Miller, General Passenger Agent, Chicago.

WEALTHY MAN DIES
IN N. Y. AUTO WRECK

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Thrown from a light runaway when it crashed against a tree in Riverside drive in sight of hundreds of persons, William F. Coxford, a wealthy gun dealer, received injuries which caused his death. His wife who accompanied him, was pitched to the roadway, sustaining serious injuries about the head and face. Her condition was such that news of her husband's death was kept from her, although physicians at St. Luke's said she would recover.

FIVE ESCAPE DEATH.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Herman Raub, former king of the Coney Island mardis gras, and four workmen came very near death yesterday when the building at 144 Fulton street collapsed, the three stories sinking to the basement with a mighty crash. That Raub is alive he lays to his own premonition of danger.

VICTIMS OF MOB

ODESSA, Oct. 8.—Despite the precautions taken by Gov. Gen. Novitski, the uninitiated after the funeral of M. Dalfinsky, assistant chief of the secret police, who was killed in an attempt to break up an anarchist meeting several days ago, renewed their anti-Semitic outrages. Several Jewish tea-rooms were ransacked and numerous Jews were beaten, it being necessary to send eighteen to the hospitals.

Hard Times in Kansas.

The old days of grasshoppers and drouth are almost forgotten in the prosperous Kansas of today; although a citizen of Codell, Earl Shamburgh, has not yet forgotten a hard time he encountered. He says: "I was worn out and discouraged by coughing night and day, and could find no relief till I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. It took less than one bottle to completely cure me." The safest and most reliable cough and cold and lung and throat healer ever discovered. Guaranteed by O. T. Erhart's drug store, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

AS TO RIVER COMMISSIONS.

In one particular—that of advising scientific investigation in establishing a basis for river improvements—Governor Davidson more nearly agreed with President Roosevelt than any of the other speakers at the waterways convention. In one thing, however, he differed, and there at once arises the old argument as to what the states should do and what the federal government should do. Governor Davidson has appointed a waterways commissioner in this state. Wisely, we believe, he advised the other river states to go and do likewise. President Roosevelt has established a national waterways commission, and he said nothing about the states co-operating by establishing commissions.

The state commission idea seems to be a sensible one, just as sensible as is the national commission idea. The water traffic problem is in an embryonic state. Nobody seems to know much about it. Search for statistics bearing on the subject has led both the president and the Wisconsin governor to the conclusion that the way is not plainly blazed, and that there must be inquiry and exploitation before a final basis is established. Wisconsin proposes to contribute to the necessary fund of information. It behooves other river states to do so, too.

TAXES—WHAT THEY BUY.

No matter what any city administration does, be it "Pecksniffian" or otherwise, it is sure to be adversely criticized. That's politics.

Criticism of this sort is expected by every partisan public official. It has its value, for the critics naturally seek to expose the real faults of the municipal government, and such is human imperfection that when the inventions of the cute inquisitor are culled out, there remain some genuine errors, exploitation of which has a salutary effect. However it should be remembered that reflections made by a political opponent are not fit for acceptance as gospel without the most cautious scrutiny.

Political opponents of political incumbents know there is one magic word that will bring voters up standing. It is "taxes." Hits 'em right in the weasel that is sometimes "skinned" in the "captain's office." When you tell a man someone or something has made predatory incursions into his wallet, he's all attention, and temper.

Taxes are certain, unavoidable. Barring, of course, some that are "dodged." "Sure as death and taxes," you know. So it isn't a question of taxes or no taxes, but of how much taxes?

How much taxes are you willing to pay, neighbor?

Depends somewhat on what you get for your taxes, don't it? We are all bound to get something. Government is something. What we want in the way of government is a business administration that gives us the most at the most reasonable cost. But we must improve; we must not

MEN OF NOTE

Luis F. Corea.

Hon. Luis Felipe Corea, the minister plenipotentiary to the United States from Nicaragua has been at Washington since 1899 and is widely known and admired in national official circles. He was born at Granada, Nicaragua, on August 25, 1864, and was educated at the National college of Granada and later graduated from the Central university of Guatemala, where he later was a professor for a number of years. His first diplomatic mission was as charge d'affaires for Guatemala in 1898. He is much interested in scientific research and is a member of many scientific associations both in this country and in Europe.

stagnate for the sake of a trifling saving in taxes.

"Our beautiful city," "our splendid streets," etc. Sounds good when some fellow who travels comes to La Crosse and says it is the most up-to-date city of its size in the country. But it cost something to make it so. Did it cost too much?

Now that gentlemen who once thought so, and who bought a building for X just before the first brick paving was done and sold it for 2X just afterward, found that the little excess in taxes was a good investment. It is hard to figure just what we get out of our taxes, to a cent. But when we pay taxes to make public improvements and next year the assessment roll shows that, what with what the assessors have dug up where the tax dodgers had buried it, and what has actually been expended in new and improved buildings, machinery, etc., and with the other item of enhancement of property values resulting from sane and scientific public improvements, the total property valuation has increased around a million dollars—when you face conditions like that and someone, in politics, cries "Ruin, diminution, havoc"—well wouldn't it jar you!

One of the most sacred duties of the public journal is to "boost" for the city in which it is published, and there must be something more than political enterprise or personal animosity to justify the depicting of alleged conditions the exploitation of which is calculated to damage the community. A newspaper published in a pretty good city can find plenty that is good to say about that city. It is a profitable plan to confine political discussions, always tending to be biased and extravagant, to a reasonable period prior to election day.

Because a petty row has been precipitated among the officials of the navy department, it is suggested that it may not be safe for the fleet to make the Pacific cruise. Diplomatic quarrels in the home government circles seem to be rated more dangerous than the battleships of a foreign power.

Now it is said President Roosevelt was hasty in having suspended a river captain who, he declares, endangered the vessel on which he was a passenger. Maybe, but in defense of the president it must be remembered that the offending craft carried the Pittsburg delegation.

There is a specie of bear in Wall street that is likely to experience some satisfaction over the fact that the scene of the president's present bear hunt is laid in Louisiana.

The street car company has not been heard to enter protest against the proposal to have the saengerfest auditorium located on the Interstate fair grounds.

THE PROPOSED GREAT WATERWAY.

(St. Louis Republic.)

When St. Louis, New Orleans, Memphis, Chicago and the states and cities of the Mississippi valley and lakes generally join in supporting the great improvement which will join the lake system and the river system into a continuous waterway, it is common sense. It is also far-sighted statesmanship. There is no question of the advantage. It is made indefinite only by the magnitude of its possibilities.

TWO PER CENT OF DOUBTFUL HONESTY.

(Baltimore Sun.)

Rigid and precise honesty exists in a more vigorous form among business men perhaps than in any other class. The undertakings of finance, of banking, of corporation enterprise, and of business generally would collapse but for the fact that 98 per cent of men in business are honest. But the other 2 per cent will bear a good deal of watching.

SPOTLIGHTS

Two clergymen stand out in sharp contradistinction in the new Henry Arthur Jones' play, "The Hypocrites," the greatest dramatic success of the past year in New York, where for seven months it packed the Hudson theatre. One of them is the Rev. Everard Daubigny, the vicar of Weybury, a thorough man of the world, a gourmet who appreciates all of the good things of life most perfectly; the other, his curate, the Rev. Edgar Linnell, a fearless worker in the field of righteousness, who has a sense of duty so strong that he even endangers his livelihood because he is in the right. The curate is the pivotal character in the play which is said to be a triumph in dramatic literature. With a really remarkable cast Charles Frohman is to present "The Hypocrites" on Thursday, Oct. 10. Seats ready to crates" at the La Crosse theatre tomorrow.

5794 Doll's Underwear Set,
18, 22 and 26 inches high.

Doll's Under-Wear Set 5794

Doll's clothing always is a matter of moment. Her little mother feels keenly the need of having it dainty and up to date and garments that can be changed and cleaned with ease are eagerly sought. Here is a complete set of under-wear that is as carefully modelled as if it had been designed for the living, human child and which can be relied upon to carry joy to the heart of every child mother. In this case fine nainsook makes the entire outfit and embroidery and beading the trimming, but doll's garments are as susceptible of variations as are her mamma's and lawn, bastiste, dotted Swiss muslin, all materials of the sort are appropriate with finish of either lace or needlework. If a birthday is in prospect, or any gift-making occasion, the ready-made set can be relied upon to carry pure joy to the recipient's heart, but there are so many desirable lessons to be learned from the making that it often is desirable to let the little mother cut and sew the garments herself, or at least to assist in the work. Skill acquired in such ways is gained without friction and is, perhaps, more perfect because of that very fact.

The set consists of chemise, drawers, petticoat and night-gown. Each is shapely yet simple. The drawers are closed, buttoned at the sides. The chemise is a full one drawn up by means of beading threaded with ribbon. The petticoat is made in three pieces and the night-gown in jumper style.

For a doll of medium size, 22 inches long, 1 1/4 yards of material 36 inches wide with 2 1/2 yards of embroidery, 3 1/4 yards of edging and 3 1/4 yards of beading will be required.

The pattern 5794 is cut in sizes for dolls of 18, 22 and 36 inches long, and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

KEEP A MOVING AT PANAMA.

(Philadelphia Evening Telegraph)

The work on the canal must go on. It cannot be dropped and taken up again like women's knitting work. To suspend operation during the rest of this year would simply be ruinous. To stop now and begin again next January would be an incalculably costly piece of unwisdom. Besides the derangement of the whole Panama organization, involving vast additional outlays, the loss of time would be calamitous. The delays inevitably to be encountered would put the undertaking back at least a year. Such being the case, the President faced the music as he usually does. "Let the work go on!" is virtually his order in the matter.

RATIONS AND SOCIAL RANK

(Brooklyn Eagle)

It is with profound relief that we learn of the fixation of social rank. Millionaires may be asked to dinner by millionaires, but members of an otherwise rich family who have themselves but $50,000 may be asked to breakfast, if they get up late enough. As for some of us, we shall continue to eat "beef-and," or coffee and sinkers, in the places where the crash of crockery precludes any necessity for an orchestra. But we have the appetite, and there you are.

"Oi dreamed that you gave me a fine box of tobacco, an' that her ladyship, yer honored wife, gave me a humble wife a can o' th' best tay."

LIPTON'S CHALLENGE AND THE YACHT CLUB

(Boston Advertiser)

The stinging protest voiced all over the country against the New York financiers' idea of "sport" is not likely to effect those worthless much. By virtue of long experience on the "street" they have become hardened to public criticism. Their attitude seems to be that they own this cup and that it is the business of nobody outside their narrow but select circle what they do with it or how they keep outsiders from any chance for a fair race for that trophy.

It makes no difference to them under what terms and by what fair treatment the cup was originally won by the America. They have seen that the only challenge issued for the cup in a good many years has come from Sir Thomas Lipton, and now they are doing what they can to discourage Lipton.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty-three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. GIANT'S
STRENGTH

BY BASIL KING

(Copyrighted by Harper & Bros.)

"That's why I turn to you," she said, simply. "There's no one else in the world I could trust in the same way."

"And you'll never regret having given me your confidence, however full it may be. I know I'm not much to look at, but at least I can offer you devotion and truth to the uttermost—to the uttermost."

"I want you to tell me about the Winships," she began again, looking down at the tip of her parasol, with which she traced aimless lines in the sand. "How did you come to know them?"

"Oh, it was a long time ago—let me see—ten, eleven, twelve—yes, it must be quite fifteen years ago. After my mother died and Alice was free, she went to Paris for a year or two to study art. In the atelier where she worked she fell in with Marah Winship."

"Is that the sister of the man I saw last night?"

"Yes, an older sister—a good deal older. She must be somewhere about Alice's age, not far off fifty."

"And does she paint, too?"

"Yes, poor thing."

"Why do you say poor thing?"

"Because she's had such a hard life. She had only the smallest kind of talent, if she had any at all, and yet she made herself a painter by sheer determination and pluck. I've heard Alice say that, in the atelier, they used to think she couldn't possibly succeed, and yet she did—in a measure. 'I had to succeed,' she has told me herself—but that was afterwards, when Alice used to have them at Edenbridge."

"Why had she to succeed?"

"You see, their father was dead, and they had lost all their money. There was a mother to be taken care of—a splendid, majestic creature, when first I knew them, but already growing blind. Then there was this brother—"

"But he's a man."

"I'm speaking of fifteen years ago. He was only a lad then. The sister thought he had it in him to become one of the great portrait-painters of the day, and so she brought him to Paris to give him the best chance. By Jove she's been a plucky one! I've never seen anything like it. She has not only worked like a slave, but she's done the impossible. She's turned herself into what nature never meant her to become, and she's made a living for them all—a poor living, it must be admitted, and one of great privation, but a living all the same, and somehow they've managed to pull through."

"Do you know why they've been so poor?"

"It was more the tone than the question that astonished Wiltshire."

"No," he replied, rather blankly. "It's because we took their money and their mines and everything they had away from them."

"We? It is?"

"Our family—my father. Oh, Duke, I didn't know anything about it till last night, and today I feel as if we were a band of robbers. When I think of the way we've lived and the way they've lived—"

"Tell me about it," he said, soothingly, as she broke off, choking.

"I don't think I can. There's so little to tell—and yet so much. It's all so dreadful—and it's—It's my father, Duke."

"For that very reason you shouldn't be in a hurry to judge."

"I know, but I can't help it. It's like a kind of jealousy in me—a jealousy for his honor, that I thought so far above attack."

The Duke's mouth twitched with a queer, significant expression, while a look of pity stole into his dull eyes.

"The Miss Winship's father was my father's competitor, and my father crushed him and ruined him and killed him. He died in the middle of all sorts of lawsuits, and then my father ruined the widow—the poor lady, who, you say, is blind. Everything they possessed came to us—I can't exactly tell you how, but my cousin George would explain it if you asked him."

"I can guess."

"Yes, because you understand about business. But it's all so cruel, Duke. I spend a great deal of money, but I can't spend it fast enough. I don't know what to buy that I haven't bought over and over again, and yet the money heaps itself up in spite of me. And now, when you tell me of that poor Marah, working against the grain, trying to achieve the impossible, and doing it—"

Her tone rose, with a sharp, nervous inflection, till she found herself unable to go on.

"There's one thing we must never forget," Wiltshire said, kindly. "We're the inheritors of the past; we're not the creators of it. All sorts of complicated situations come down to us, and in them we can only grope our way. You inherit the situation your father made for you, and Mr. Winship inherits that which his father made for him. You and I know too little to judge either side. We're too remote from all the conditions to apportion out the real rights and wrongs—"

"And therefore," Paula interrupted, somewhat bitterly, "we should settle down complacently to accept things as they are."

"Not quite that. But if we can't accept things as they are, we must try to force them into being what they can't become. We can only learn by degrees how to adjust what's wrong—"

"But you can adjust anything with money—that is, if you have enough."

"Not everything, unhappily."

"But I could adjust this."

"You mean that you could give the Winships money? Oh no, you couldn't."

"I don't mean that I could give them alms, or do anything with condescension. But couldn't I give them a great deal—as much as they ever lost—more than that? I have a great deal of money of my own—I don't know how much—but it must be a large sum—and I'd give it all to them. You could help me. You know them, and I could do it through you, if you only would—"

"Softly, softly. You couldn't do anything of that sort. They wouldn't take it. Things aren't managed so directly as that in this complicated world. They'd be offended, you know. They wouldn't listen to me—"

"Oh, yes, they would. Everybody listens when it's a question of getting money. You'd beg it as a favor. You'd say it was not in pity for them, but in kindness to me. You'd put it that way. And they'd take it. I know they would. I've never seen any one refuse money—if it was enough. Oh, Duke, do!"

THE HARD-TO-BELIEVE-IN HARVESTS

(Philadelphia Telegraph)

What this conversion of the country's harvests into money will mean to our people can hardly be conjectured. The transaction as a whole is too vast to be comprehended by ordinary minds, but the contemplation of such facts and figures as are even now available will at least serve to stimulate the duldest imagination. Business men whose success depends on their ability to make reliable forecasts have estimated that the wheat of the Northwest will bring in larger returns this year than ever before. The states of Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota will receive not less than $200,000,000, besides the value of their leading staple consumed at home. Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska are equally prosperous, and an equal sum will be paid into these states for wheat and corn. The south and the southwest will, according to present anticipations, more than double the immense sums here referred to. The Governor of Georgia, speaking before the bankers' convention at Atlantic City last week, endeavored to convey some idea of the wealth resulting from the cotton crop by comparisons that seem extravagant, though offered in all seriousness. "Bring to me," he said, "all the grain, all the provisions, all the food stuffs, all the steel of the forty-seven common-wealths of this great Union exported last year, and I will sell the cotton crop of 1907 and pay you cash and yet have money enough left to capitalize 200 national banks."

When the Truth Deceives.

"Does he ever tell the truth?"

"Oh, yes, when he is talking to those who know him."

"Afraid he will be found out, eh?"

"No, he knows they will think he is lying."—Brooklyn Life.

TRIX MISJUDGED AND SO HE DIED

TRAGEDY THIS MORNING ON CALEDONIA STREET

CAR WHEEL CUT OFF HEAD

Carl Schwartz's Festive Canine Who Liked to Bark at the Cars Pays the Penalty.

Trix was a dog, a young pup that delighted in running along beside of street cars and barking at it. He would run ahead at just a tantalizing distance and as the motor was about to hit him he would spring away.

This morning, however, all did not go well. Car No. 41 came along upon Caledonia street and off Trix bounded to pursue his favorite sport. For some unexplainable reason he misjudged his speed and landed right in front of the car and was knocked over by the fender. He struggled to regain his feet but was too late and the heavy wheels passed over his neck, nearly severing the head from the body. With a few convulsive kicks he died.

He was owned by Mr. Carl Schwartz of 930 Island street.

PROMOTE FIREMEN

BULLETIN SHOWING OPPORTUNITY

Extension Means Good Jobs for Many Men

On account of the additional tracks which have been laid during the past season and also on account of the Western Pacific Milwaukee road extension a large number of firemen may be promoted in the near future to engineers.

Superintendent of motive power A. E. Manchester, now of Minneapolis, but formerly the foreman at the North La Crosse round house and machine shops has issued the following bulletin:

"To all firemen in line for promotion to engineers:

"All firemen who have been in the service nearly four (4) years may be expected to be called upon at any moment for examination for promotion."

Mr. Manchester lays especial stress upon the knowledge which firemen must have of the time card in order to successfully pass the examinations and continues:

"We have had complaints from several of the superintendents that men who have been sent in for time card examinations were found to be sadly deficient in their knowledge of same."

"This is to notify men in line for promotion that this particular feature must be given special attention and that they must be prepared to pass the time card examination."

ITCH IN THE SKIN, NOT IN THE BLOOD.

People With Eczema, etc., Make Grievous Error by Taking Medicine Into the Stomach.

When your hand is scalded with hot water until it blisters and burns, you don't drink medicine to cure it. You apply a healing lotion to the injured skin.

Eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, barber's itch and other such diseases of the skin cannot be cured by filling the stomach with medicine any more than you can cure a burn by drinking medicine. To cure these diseases you must apply the remedy on the part affected. The diseases named are caused by germs in the skin. Kill the germs and the disease goes away and the skin is left pure and white as nature intended it to be.

That mild, simple liquid, oil of wintergreen, properly compounded in D. D. D. Prescription rubs the germs and heals the skin so perfectly that you can never tell where the disease was.

"No tongue can tell nor pen portray what I suffered for ten years from Eczema," writes Mrs. R. R. Latta of Garrison, Mo. "I was treated by the best doctors in the west, but received no benefit. Three bottles of D. D. D. cured me sound and well. Six or eight months have passed and there is no sign of a return. My advice to all is, don't delay. Begin the use of D. D. D. at once and be cured."

We have carried D. D. D. for a long time because we know it takes away the itch and we believe it to be an infallible remedy in the treatment of Eczema and other skin diseases.

WANT BETTER ROADS TO WEST LA CROSSE

MATTER WILL BE BROUGHT UP AT BOARD MEETING

AUTOS CANNOT RUN THERE

Sand Is so Deep That the Machines Find it Impossible to Plow Through it

Better roads to French Island from La Crosse with a substantial bridge are wanted by the residents of West La Crosse, hunters and sportsmen in general, who have occasion to travel this highway. At a meeting of hunters and residents of the island last week the question was discussed and it was the unanimous opinion that the road ought to be repaired and the bridge made stronger.

At the fall meeting of the county board of supervisors an agreement may be made with the city for the repair of the road and bridge to make the highway one of the best in the county.

Each week the road is used by hundreds of hunters on the way to the lake about French Island, while the residents of West La Crosse and also La Crosse patronize the road to and from home and their place of work or business.

MUST KEEP CAR DOORS CLOSED

Superintendent Erwin of the Southern Minnesota division of the Milwaukee road has issued the following notice to all trainmasters along his division, which is in compliance with the laws of Minnesota regarding the useless spread of obnoxious weeds.

"The laws of Minnesota provide that for the purpose of preventing the spreading of obnoxious weeds all railroad companies are required to keep the doors of their empty cars closed during transit on any lines in this state."

"Failure to comply with this law will lay them subject to a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $25."

It is understood that in several places along the Minnesota lines, where groves of obnoxious weeds have grown the inspectors have fined the companies and the notice is therefore given to employees of the C. M. & St. P. road.

SEVERE SHORTAGE OF HARD WOOD

If the present conditions continue La Crosse is about to face winter with a little or no hard wood. According to C. L. Jenks, of the Arctic Ice and Fuel company, the shortage this year is alarming.

Last year the price of hard wood reached a price far above the ordinary and this year the prices will no doubt be sent soaring far above those of last year. The chief shortage seems to be in oak and men representing the Arctic Ice and Fuel company are scouring the surrounding territory in an effort to get it. Their attempts have been in the main unsuccessful all that has been secured so far has been about two hundred cords that has been sent here from Marshfield and that vicinity.

SWITCHMAN HURT ON NORTH SIDE

Adolf Carey, switchman in the North La Crosse Milwaukee yards, met with a painful accident Wednesday when he caught his left forefinger between the draft iron and another car.

The finger was nearly severed from the hand.

Dr. G. J. Egan is attending to the member and hopes to save it.

The draft iron on the car was too long and the accident resulted therefore from a bad order car.

VOTE-BERGER TO LEAVE NORTH SIDE

DEFINITE AND AUTHENTIC REPORT IS OUT

NEW PLANT DEAL ABANDONED

Addition May Be Put Onto Old Plant Which Would Keep Plant on North Side

It has been learned upon good authority that the plan of a new structure for the Vote-Berger telephone and switchboard factory on the North side at Gillette and Rose streets has been practically abandoned.

The price was too high and nothing would be done at the figures which were submitted to the directors, and it is therefore decided to drop the idea of a new structure.

It is understood that a deal has now been practically closed for the purchase of the old threshing machine company building near the Gund Brewing company plant.

The North side will no doubt feel the loss of a new structure and the subsequent removal of the plant from the North side very much.

An addition may be built to the old plant, however, and the engine house may be moved over near the river so that they can get their own supply of water from the river.

PROGRESSIVE LEAGUE MEETS TOMORROW

CONDUCTOR FALLS FROM A FLAT CAR

Dell Frost, a well known conductor on the Milwaukee road, fell from a flat car at River Junction late last night and sustained injuries which may prove serious. Mr. Frost was walking along his train when it gave a sudden jerk throwing him to the ground. He was at once taken to La Crosse and Dr. Egan was called and took the injured man to the hospital. He is reported to be getting along nicely today.

A lady told a party of friends that she had quarreled with her husband and had planted a tree in memory of their first falling out.

INVESTIGATE FIFTH WARD EPIDEMIC

Superintendent Bird stated that the matter would be looked into a little closer, both by himself and the health inspector and if it was serious in all probability the school would be quarantined.

ONCE A BEGGAR; NOW GOOD CITIZEN

REV. C. M. STOCKING TO TELL STRANGE STORY TONIGHT

LA CROSSE WOMAN INVOLVED

Once Gave Man $5 Gold Piece by Mistake and Had Him Arrested; He Is Now Useful Citizen

When Rev. C. M. Stocking of the Twin cities tonight gives his address on City mission work at the First Presbyterian church, he will tell a strange story of the rise of a man who, as a crippled beggar once was put in jail here after a woman of La Crosse had given him a five dollar gold piece by mistake.

Rev. Stocking wrote to Superintendent A. M. Ivey of the local mission telling him of the incident and wishing that the woman who recalled giving a crippled tramp the money by mistake and recovering it through the police might be present at the meeting to hear the story of a man's rise. He is now a prosperous and worthy citizen of Minneapolis and Rev. Stocking in his address will relate the complete story.

The meeting tonight will also be the annual meeting of the La Crosse City Mission and work of enlarging and improving the institution will be taken up. Rev. Stocking represents the successful Minneapolis City mission which is now self supporting, and will tell the story of its success before the meeting.

ODD SUMMER RESORT FOR SWELL CANINES

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The latest novelty is a dog summer resort, just outside of Paris. A keeper on the Bois de Boulogne has opened a dog boarding-house, where canine pets have a summer residence during the time their owners are traveling.

The promoters say dogs get run down like individuals, and need a change and a fresh garden in which to play. Prices vary according to the size of dog and how much he eats.

Just now about sixty dogs, pets of wealthy and titled persons, are having holiday, awaiting the return of their owners.

Each dog has his own house. The menu varies according to the day or dog, or health of the animal, but is usually pot au feu or veal.

Julius Dobe, a city employee, while while working on the corner of Fifth and Main street yesterday, had a narrow escape from being electrocuted. It was discovered that the brick in the pavement was settling. They were taken out and a hole was discovered in the ground. In order to ascertain the depth of the hole a long iron pipe was used and the other end of the pipe, which was in the hands of Mr. Dobe, touched the trolley wire causing a current of electricity to pass through it, severely affecting Mr. Dobe.

KONETCHY'S TEAM WINS THE FIRST

At St. Louis yesterday in the inter-league series between the St. Louis Americans and St. Louis National teams, the Nationals won by 6 to 1. Konetchy, former La Crosse first baseman, got 14 put outs, though he did not get a hit.

The National leaguers got after Pitcher Glade in the fifth inning and pounded five runs off him right there, more than enough to win. Eleven hits were recorded off him. Lush kept the slams scattered. The score:

Real success comes to the man or woman who stands squarely on two feet—with mind and body in poise—and nerves that don't fail when needed.

If you eat Grape-Nuts made from the field grains which contain the natural phosphate of potash placed there by Nature for rebuilding brain and nerve cells, you're bound to have "ginger" and "nerve."

AN ODD SUPERSTITION.

British Fishermen Balk at the Name of Graham.

One of the most curious of British fishermen's superstitions, the one which perhaps to this day has the strongest hold upon them, is that connected with the name of Graham. No fisherman will go to sea if he has heard the name mentioned, nor will he do any manner of work upon that day. He will refuse to sail in a boat with any one bearing the name, and a house painter from Newcastle called Graham, who had been sent to do some work in one of the large houses, found his life made so unbearable by the villagers that he incontinently returned to the town, leaving his work uncompleted. The women who bait the lines in the winter will unbait every hook and rebait the whole length—the labor of hours—if they hear it mentioned.

A local tradesman bearing this unfortunate patronymic is never referred to as "Puff," another, an innkeeper, is known as "Lucky Bits." No rational explanation is to be found. On one of the most intelligent fishermen being questioned on the subject he laughed the idea to scorn. Why, his daughter was married to a Graham. But, he added, a strange thing happened two years ago when he was off at the herring fishing and had not been home for some weeks. Having received a letter at Shields to say that his son-in-law "was ill," he hailed a passing boat which had come from the north, asking if they had heard how Jack Graham was. "And, was ye believe," he soon had an answer to the words that there was a crash, and the mast went over the side." None of the crew spoke to him for the rest of the day.—New York Post.

Those Fool Questions.
"It gets me the fool questions people ask," said a big, fat, stern looking man the other day. "A man will listen to you while you tell him what you want, and then he'll ask you what it is that you want. Here's a sample: I went into a drug store over here the other day and told the man at the soda fountain that I wanted an egg milk shake. He looked at me a moment and then asked me, 'Do you want an egg in it?'"

"I gave him the congealed optic and repeated my order to him, 'Egg milk shake,' I says. Once more and again the duck asks me, 'I say do you want an egg in it?'"

"I thought, at first maybe he had misunderstood me, but after the second time I spoke to him as follows: 'Had it ever struck you,' I says to him, 'that ingredients of an egg milk shake or any other egg drink include an egg? Egg milk shakes are not made merely with milk and bologna sausage. If you thought they were you've got about fourteen good drinks coming to you. Egg drinks call for eggs just the same as lemonade calls for lemons or strawberry shortcake for strawberries?'"

"He went ahead and mixed up my drink, and I was thinking that I had taught him a lesson, but today I went into the same place, and, do you know, the duck asked me the same question. Not much hope for a man like that, is there?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MADISON HUNTERS NABBED AT WABASHA

That the state game laws are to be enforced in regard to hunters who shoot game in the open water in defiance of the laws, is shown by the fact that six prominent Madison sportsmen were yesterday arrested at Wabasha.

Two of the men are also charged of hunting without a license which places them liable to a fine of from $50 to $300.

The other four are liable to fines of from $35 to $100.

The Madison men were arrested by Game Warden E. W. Tuttle of Oconomowoc and Gustav Kolb of Vernon county who being unknown to the hunters at that vicinity were able to catch them redhanded.

WIRELESS MESSAGE COVERS 11,000 MILES

SYDNEY, Nova Scotia, Oct. 8.—While the Marconi experts here were testing several new receiving cones at the top of the towers at Merion station the operator in his room below picked up he wireless station at Manila.

The message received was that the United States cruiser Philadelphia had arrived at that port and that all was well.

The marine people account for the remarkable happening on the presumption that the receiving cone at Merion must have been in perfect "tune" with that at Manila.

The distance from Merion to Manila is 11,000 miles. The best previous record for distance by wireless was 4,000 miles between Savannah and an American vessel on her way in the south Pacific ocean.

The Marconi experts at Merion were experimenting in an effort to intercept messages sent by rival companies.

Perscription Talk No. 9

Some time ago I had in my window a $60,000 show. I had piled up in it over 100,000 prescriptions which I had filled up to that time here. Some doubted my statement regarding the $60,000 value. But the prescriptions ranged in price from 10c to $1.50 and averaged 60c. At present my prescription No. is over 105,000. In order to do this phenomenal prescription business I had to study two points—to employ the utmost care and caution in compounding, and to make my prices reasonable. By the number I've filled, and the fact that there is not one error on record, you will see, I've been successful and that you will be absolutely safeguarded to let me have your prescription business.

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body that suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Purify impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures and purifies the blood, thereby curing pimples, blotches, eruptions, and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 608 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

WILL PRODUCED AT FINAL MOMENT

EXPECTANT HEIRS RECEIVE A JOLT TODAY

MAJORITY IS LEFT TO SON

Last Testament of John Johnson Filed on Day Set for Appointment of an Administrator

Expectant heirs of the estate of John Johnson received a jolt this morning, when the will was produced in probate court on the day set for the appointment of an administrator by Judge Brindley. Proceedings, which would divide the estate equally among the children, were set at an end, temporarily at least, while the will will be probated.

The majority of the estate is bequeathed to John Johnson, Jr., and his wife, while the remainder, if any exists, will be divided among the children. John Johnson, Jr., it is said, was not on friendly terms with his sisters, who were behind the move to have an administrator appointed. His attorney claims he was not invited to enter into the appointment of a receiver, but turned the tables on the opposition by producing the will and shattering their plans.

The estate of Johnson, Jr., is estimated at $500 by C. L. Hood, attorney for Johnson, and while the other heirs say it is worth more. No estimate of the value is given in the petition for an administration. Johnson died on Sept. 5 and five days later, Anna Bennet, a daughter, appeared before Judge Brindley and asked for the appointment of an administrator. She named her sister, Jennie Dunbar, as a candidate. The petition was presented in due form and the date of hearing set for today.

When Anna Bennet and Jennie Dunbar appeared this morning, they were shocked. The will had been presented during the last week, and their plans for the appointment of administrator were checked temporarily. An angry scene ensued, but was ended after a time.

By the terms of the will, $1,000 is bequeathed to John Johnson, Jr., a horseman well known in the city, while his wife received $500. It is believed the two were remembered substantially for care and support given the old man while confined in his bed. He was an invalid for several years. The remainder is to be divided equally among the rest of the heirs.

John Johnson, Sr., left ten heirs, six girls and four boys. The heirs are:

Jennie Dunbar, La Crosse; Isabella Hayem, Salt Lake City, Utah; Anna Bennet, La Crosse; Alva Johnson, Sandstone, Minn.; Edward Johnson, La Crosse; Oscar Johnson, La Crosse; Emma Hartnett, La Crosse; Tena Kirschbaum, La Crosse, and Clara Nelson, La Crosse.

The next step in proceedings will be the probate of the will. The sisters claim their father was insane at the time the will was drawn, several years ago, and may make a contest on this point. No steps have been taken thus far, but the son probably will resist any attempts to have the will declared incompetent.

MURDER SHOWS TANGLES IN LAW

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The intricate and finicky manner of administering the criminal law in France is attracting editorial comment, particularly in the case of an aged woman recently murdered in Paris. One man stabbed her while two others held her.

Some lawyers opine that the men who held the murdered woman deserve a heavier sentence than the stabber.

The lawyers' difficulty in the case is to determine how properly to apportion punishment in its different degrees of severity, so that the men who held the woman may get a lighter sentence than the man who stabbed her.

The public complains in the press that the time of the courts is wasted by the misplaced mercifulness of the judges.

SHORT SLEEVES TO GO

PARIS, Oct. 8.—With winter's advent the thoughts of the feminine world turn with one accord to Dame Fashion for her newest decrees in the matter of dresses and hats. The knell has been tolled for elbow sleeves that were the delight of the last three years.

Madame's new winter dress molds the figure tight—frock collar to hem and from shoulder to wrist. Long sleeves are far more practical, say dressmakers and furrier alike, but what sighing will come from those whose coats of sable and seal of a year ago were unmercifully cut to meet the whims of that inconsistent tyrant, fashion.

NATION MUST HURRY IN AERIAL WARFARE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—European nations are far in advance of the United States in aerial navigation, according to Major Henry B. Hershey. He believes this country ought to construct an aerial fleet and begin experiments. Every officer in the signal corps of the war department agrees. Congress probably will be asked for an appropriation to cover the expense.

At least there can be no question that for once the Standard Oil attorneys are getting a fine chance to earn their salaries.

HARTJE STOPS AN

stead, for Hartje, thus "telling the truth," as the letters intimate. The scheme of blackmail is alleged to have been carried to the extent of threatening the attorneys of Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje, as her letter to Lappe signed "Helen" tells of how "J. M. F." (apparently Attorney J. M. Freeman), had been frightened when they walked into the office, and how some person "had been brought to time."

Says "Papa Fixed It Up." Another sensational letter from "Ida" is submitted, in which she tells Lappe that they will not go to Mr. Hartje with their testimony, since "Papa has fixed it up," the inference being that the girls had been promised the money which they wrote they would demand as the price of their silence.

Nor is it denied by John E. Scott, father of Mrs. Hartje, and Ida and Helen Scott, that his 16 year old daughter, Ida, did demand of him a monthly allowance, not only for herself but for Howard W. Lappe, the young man she expected to marry; the same young man who is alleged by Mr. Hartje to have sold Ida's love letters to him. Mr. Scott will not talk of this phase of the affair, but said regarding Mrs. Hartje:

"I am not surprised at anything Mr. Hartje does or says. A man who would hire seven attorneys to defend a negro would do anything."

Mrs. Scott tonight said she could not speak of the letters, because she did not know whether her daughters had written them. Miss Helen Scott refused to be seen, and Ida Scott is at a boarding school in New Jersey.

Letter to Coachman Significant.

In the statement submitted to the supreme court there are copies of letters alleged to have been written by Mrs. Hartje to Tom Madine when both were in Europe in the year 1905. Mr. Hartje asserted that his wife tried to poison him in Paris, and cites in defense of his assertion a letter purporting to have been written to Madine by Mrs. Hartje from London. In part this letter reads:

"Dear Tom: While I was out yesterday Mary L. was in the room alone with her papa. He seemed well all day and had just taken one of his large pills when he fainted and fell to the floor."

"Men came from the office and he worked in a spasm for three hours. We all thought every minute was his last. The doctor came and said it was just from his nerves. He was sick all night, but seems better today. The doctor got a nurse, and he will be in bed a week or so. He was nearly dead, as he was cold all over."

"Now if anything should happen I will send for you to help me, and if he gets better I will go home in two weeks. I am not sure you will get this, or I would write the feeling in my heart this minute. I am living on your promise, 'Try again.' I did my part and will do again. I will send you some money, and this is what you must do: Bring home some of that I have in my box, or another kind. I did not have enough. I hope you understand. I am sorry I did not bring the other kind, too."

Put Pill in His Mouth.

Further along the letter says: "When I left the room yesterday night before Mr. H. took sick I put my hand on my locket and said, 'All for the one I want and love.' I must tell you I put the pill in his mouth, and it is all so hard, the way it turned out. I will tell you all when you are at home, but do not come without what I said. Please burn this, as you know what it means for us both."

In another place the writer exclaims: "O, why did it not work? I am wild to tell you all about it. Poor M. L. saw it all." (The daughter of Mrs. Hartje, who was with her in Paris, is named Mary Louise).

Near the close of the letter the writer says:

"Try to get what I tell you. Get them in tenths and fifteenths of a grain."

HIGH SCHOOL NO MORE PUPILS' CLUB

PROF. BENEZET OUTLINES HARD COURSE

PLAN ADOPTED BY THE BOARD

In the Future Students Must Get Their Lessons or They Will Be Dropped from the Classes

In order that the La Crosse high school may further extend its accredited list, which is now greater than any school in its class, and that it may include many of the eastern colleges which do not now recognize its graduates, the La Crosse board of education last evening adopted measures, introduced by the new principal, Benezet, which are expected to create more enthusiasm in the work of students who continually "flunk" in their classes, and thus raise the standard of the school in general.

Uniforms for New Schedule.

The measures adopted by the school board are in the way of an entirely new schedule of courses, classes, and studies for each semester, or half term, which had been approved by the teachers before they were recommended to the board by Principal Benezet.

The schedules were made explicit to the board, which readily understood the improvement, and unanimously adopted the plan which will be put into practice as soon as possible.

Laggards Must Drop Courses.

The new rules are very stringent and pupils who play in school or who have a hard time getting their lessons will have to devise some means of getting better than 65 per cent in two of their studies or they will be obliged to drop one study at the beginning of each new half term.

Any pupil who does not attain better record than 65 per cent in but one of the four studies which they may be carrying shall be dropped temporarily from the school.

Pamphlet for All Courses.

A pamphlet is to be printed which will contain the entire four years' course which all pupils may take at the La Crosse high school and it will explain all the courses of study and will show them in a short time how they can map out the courses of study which they desire to take for their entire four years at the school. The pamphlets may be taken home and the parents can in this way also learn just what their children intend to study and perhaps assist them in making out their courses.

In this way both pupil and parent may follow through the four years' course of study very easily.

32 Credits Necessary.

Hereafter 32 credits will be necessary instead of 16, as has been the custom. The number of credits was doubled so as to prevent fractions of credits such as have occurred when a pupil took drawing or music which entitled them to but one-half credit per semester, or half year.

New Plan Saves Money.

According to the present plan it is estimated that each pupil in the high school costs the city $82 and the new plans are therefore calculated to be money savers for the taxpayers of the city.

"We cannot afford to run a club for pupils," said Prof. Benezet in a way which means that pupils must come to school to study and not to while away their time. He showed that pupils who are now in the school will not graduate until 1918-1924 or 1926 if they do not progress more rapidly than at present.

Commercial Courses Lengthened.

The commercial course at the school has been extended to four instead of three years and the salary of Prof. Zimmer was increased $25 per year.

Hereafter pupils will be kept in the freshman, junior, or sophomore years according to their studies, whether they may have been in the school one, two, three, or five years; and will not be allowed to go on with the rest of the class for the study in which they may have been able to barely pass.

About ten thousand dollars will have to be added to the school fund this year on account of the numerous departments added and the increasing teaching staff.

Two Sessions at Sixth.

At the Sixth district where there are too many pupils, arrangements will be made for two sessions for some of the lower grades. One set will attend in the morning and start at 8:30 o'clock and the other set will attend in the afternoon and start at 1 o'clock.

RICH WESTERNERS SAVED FROM DEATH

DENVER, Oct. 8.—That Governor Buchtel, David H. Moffat, Banker C. B. Kountze, Lawrence Phipps, the steel man, and Edward Chase, king of the Denver gambling syndicate, were doomed to die at the hands of dynamiters, was the astonishing discovery made by accident late last night and reported to the police in time to prevent the killing of Chase and his family.

Enough of the deadly explosive was found by the police concealed near the Chase house to have blown up the state capitol, and it is considered certain that had not the plans been heard, some members of the most prominent families in the state would have perished, along with Chase and his family.

The man to be sorry for is not the poet who tries to make a living that way, but his friends who have to let him read stuff to him.

GRAND JURY IS THROUGH WITH WORK

GIVE BATCH OF INDICTMENTS TO JUDGE QUARLES

JURIST TO ARRIVE TOMORROW

Officials of the Session Return to Madison With Exception of U. S. Marshal and Deputy

The grand jury of the United States court did not convene yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock as was expected. They will report tomorrow.

Judge Quarles could not come from Milwaukee yesterday, but is expected to arrive on the 7 o'clock Milwaukee train tomorrow morning.

He will receive the indictments of the jury and discharge them sometime during the day.

All of the Madison force which has been here during the past week has returned home except the United States Marshal Charles Lewiston and his assistant, Fred French. This practically ends the business of importance in the United States court for some time, as the majority of the cases will be tried at Madison, the home of the judge, as has been customary.

Revision of Tariff Is Urged.

In this connection, the recent address of Secretary Straus before the cotton manufacturers here in which he urged the need of revision and reciprocity is stirring up much attention. Mr. Straus will not discuss the subject further and will not say that he spoke for the president. In view of what Secretary Taft has already said, prior to the address of Mr. Straus, and in view of Mr. Root's position, there is reason to believe a good deal will be heard from the cabinet the rest of this administration in favor of revision. It is known that there is small sympathy in the cabinet for the idea of a maximum and minimum tariff with the minimum the present rates of duty which some high tariff leaders want. There is strong feeling that if such a line of tariff legislation is to be adopted, the present rates should be the maximum. It is also pointed out that if the democrats are to be prevented from making much of the tariff issue in 1908, it will be necessary for the country to be impressed with the idea the republicans really mean revision after the presidential election. Talk here is that the president fully realizes this and that it was with next year's campaign in mind that Mr. Straus with his sanction undoubtedly, spoke out as he did.

CUB AND TIGER FIGHT HERE

With the world's championship games on at Chicago between the Chicago National league team and the Detroit American league team, Manager Lester Kuehn of the Fay Lewis & Brother branch store in the city has arranged one of the best windows seen in the city, representing the national games now taking place.

The window is arranged on the order of a large prize ring, having been set for the battle with a "teddy bear" to represent the Chicago Cubs, and a "tiger" to represent the Detroit team. Sponges, pails, and all the paraphernalia of a real fight is arranged in the ring, and just outside the scene of action stands the press box and the rooters' box with dolls representing the following at a great occasion: Detroit Free Press, Chicago Tribune, La Crosse Tribune, Western Union Telegraph company, Chicago Board of Trade, Rooters' club, Detroit Rooters' club, and in the back ground the grandstand is shown with the fans cheering their teams.

The teddy bear and the tiger are shown as boxing the first round coming off today. They are "manikins" and one "round" is fought each day.

LADIES FORM BOWLING CLUB

A ladies bowling club has been organized at the Hunt alleys on Third street and the games will be scheduled for Wednesday morning, the first will be rolled tomorrow.

The ladies met this morning and chose their team and named it the Entie Nouis. It is composed of Mesdames Frank Williams, Lester Keene L. Hirschheimer, C. A. Hunt and Burton J. Judd and Miss May Williams.

The first game of the city league will be rolled this evening the Americans are scheduled to roll the White Sox.

STUDENTS WILL STAND TRIAL

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The cases of four students of the University charged with disorderly conduct in participating in last week's hazing riot, this morning were put over to tomorrow morning. The father of Walter Brunow, one of the quartet, asked leave to settle his sons case by paying the costs. The rest are going to trial and despite the small charge it is expected tomorrow will start a notable legal battle, as he four will be expelled if convicted under the University rules. Six lawyers are engaged for the defense.

S.S.S. HEALS OLD SORES

An old sore or ulcer is only a symptom, an outlet for the impurities and poisons which are in the blood, and as long as this vital fluid remains in this impure, contaminated state the place will never heal. The application of this salve, washes, powders, etc., may cause the spot to scab over, but a fresh outpouring of diseased matter from the blood starts it again, and thus it goes on, gradually growing worse and slowly affecting the entire health of the sufferer. There are many ways in which the blood becomes contaminated and poisoned. A long spell of sickness breeds disease germs in the system, the failure of the eliminative members to remove the refuse and waste matter infects the blood with morbid matter and germs which sooner or later is manifested by a sore that refuses to heal. Persons with inherited blood taint are very apt to be afflicted with sores and ulcers. The taint may lie dormant during young, vigorous life, but when middle age is reached or passed and the natural energies begin to grow weaker, the tissues in some weak point break down and a chronic sore is formed and kept open by the constant drainage of impure matter from the blood. If the cause is not removed the sore will continue to grow worse by eating deeper into the flesh, festering, discharging, and slowly undermining the constitution. S. S. S. heals old sores by going down to the very bottom of the trouble, driving out the impurities and building up the entire circulation. When S. S. S. has removed the cause the blood becomes rich and healthy, the sore begins to heal, new flesh is formed, and soon the place is cured. Do not depend on external applications, which do not reach the blood, but begin the use of S. S. S. and remove the cause, and then the sore must heal. FINISH CREOSOTE BLOCK BY NOV. 1

WOOLEY & HANSON RUSHING
THE JOB

RAIN CAN CREATE HAVOC

If Blocks Become Soaked Before
Application Is Applied Much Trouble Ensues.

Contractors Wooley & Hanson expect to have Cass street paved with creosoted blocks on contract time, Nov. 1, or before. Hustle has been the slogan on the work during the last week, and records were established for the laying of the tarred block so enthusiastic were the men, and the contractors.

One twelfth of the block, 750 cubic yards, was laid Saturday. With this speed, another record was made yesterday when an equal amount was laid, bringing the total to Ninth street, and allowing several blocks of the new pavement to be opened to traffic.

Rain may play havoc with the contractors in the work. If rain falls, before the creosoted blocks are coated with tar, and the crevices filled in with pitch, after the block is laid, a difficult matter presents itself. When hot pitch is poured on the blocks, after being wet, the blocks sputter and the tar refuses to fill in. Clouds hastened the men in the work yesterday and the hot tar was applied almost immediately after a block was put down.

The laying of the block is an interesting sight and hundreds have availed themselves of the opportunity of watching the construction of the new pavement. The blocks come in various sizes, no two alike, and it is necessary to lay them so that no two crevices come together. With skilled workmen placing the blocks in position, it is never necessary to handle one block more than once. A practiced eye tells the block layers, if the block will fit.

Concrete base has been laid to Tenth and Cass streets, although a half block, between Ninth and Tenth streets has not been put in. During the last week, the entire crew of men has been engaged in laying blocks and the concrete work has been allowed to lag. Now that the block layers are about caught up on the work, the concrete base will be put in again.

The contractors are joyful at the prospect of having the work finished on time or before.

PLANS FOR NEW PYTHIAN HALL

The Knights of Pythias of La Crosse are to have the most elaborate hall in the city.

They have had a lease upon the company "M" hall on Main street for some time and it will now be entirely remodelled for their occupancy. The contract has been let.

A new floor is to be installed and the walls are to be entirely replaced with new plastering. New toilet rooms will also be installed and Contractor C. W. Noble, who has charge of the work, says that when it is completed it will be the finest hall in the city.

CROP YIELD LESS; PRICES ARE HIGHER

WISCONSIN FARMERS HELPED OUT BY CASH

SECRETARY MAKES REPORT

Frosts Did Damage to Corn, While
Oats and Barley Were Poor.
Tobacco Crop Good.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 8.—The farmers of Wisconsin this year will get considerably less from the fields than for several years past, and but for the prevailing high prices would sustain a substantial misfortune. The state farm crop report, issued today by John M. True, secretary of the state board of agriculture, shows that the yield for 1907 was less than the average for several years past that the corn crop was damaged by frost to about 15 per cent, that the oats and barley crops were light and of poor quality, the potato crop injured by blight and rot. Other crops were good, particularly the tobacco, which is better than was expected.

The reports indicate that few farm crops the present season are to be equal in yield and quality to the average of the past few years. The yield of oats and barley as shown by threshing, was a disappointment to those who had judged the probable production from appearances of crops in the field. Not only is the yield light, but oats, specially, are of poor quality. Barley, while better than oats, is not equal in grade to the crop of the past two years. Wheat and rye show an average well up to that of the past five years.

The corn crop improved rapidly during the month of August, and was well advanced at the time of the first frost, about the middle of September. The weather during the month of September was not calculated to mature the crop, and indications are that about 15 per cent of the crop will not be fully ripened.

The potato crop has been seriously damaged in yield by blight, and many locations, subsequent rot. Up on light soils the quality is reported as good. Undoubtedly the crop as a whole will be as profitable for the farmer as though the yield were much larger and the price correspondingly decreased.

Tobacco grew rapidly during the last few weeks prior to harvest, and one crop that is better than it was expected to be. Our estimate of yield per acre is left over for the November report.

In localities where largely raised, sugar beets, cabbages, and beans are reported as a good crop.

Pastures are remarkably good for the season and farm stock feeding on grass is in good condition.

Our next report will deal with the yield per acre, quality, and price of the several farm crops.

Correspondents report an estimated yield per acre as follows: Wheat, 16 bushels; rye, 17 bushels; barley, 25 bushels; oats, 23 bushels; tame hay, 1½ tons.

Condition of crops whose yield has not yet been determined is given as follows: Corn, 76 per cent; potatoes, 72 per cent; tobacco, 87 per cent; sugar beets, 90 per cent; cabbages, 90 per cent; beans, 93 per cent.

NO STATE TAX IS PROBABLE AGAIN

NOT LIKELY TO BE AVOIDED,
HOWEVER

WILL DECIDE ON SATURDAY

Board of Assessment Meets and Discusses Problem—Make Estimates of Expenditures for 12 Months

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 8.—There will be no tax levied this year for the general expenses of the state unless the board of assessment, consisting of Gov. Davidson, Secretary of State Frear and State Treasurer Dahl, in procuring revised and corrected figures, find that the financial situation of the state is much different from the estimates which they discussed at a meeting yesterday.

Final Decision Saturday.
However, from the estimates discussed by the board, it seems possible to avoid a direct tax this year, but it may not be possible to do so next year. The board did not come to a final conclusion.

Next Saturday the board will hold another meeting for the purpose of taking final action. In the meantime information will be had from the capitol building commission as to how much of the capitol appropriation will be required during the coming year; also similar information from the university as to the new buildings to be erected there next year; from the state board of control regarding the binding twine factory at the state prison, and other institutional improvements authorized by the legislature. Unless this revised information shows that the expenditures for these purposes will aggregate much more than the present estimates indicate there will be no state tax levied this year.

Large State Expenditures.
The appropriation for the new capitol is $600,000 a year for nine years. The commission, however, is not using as much money as it is authorized to use, because the work is not going on as fast as to require so much. However, it is contemplated by the commission to clear away the old east wing and lay the foundation for the new next year, and also to build the new heating plant, which will cost about $500,000.

The board of control thinks that it will be impossible to do any work on the twine factory this year and that it will not be possible to place the plant in operation before 1909. The situation with respect to the new university buildings is not known definitely.

The total receipts of the state for the year coming will aggregate between $5,500,000 and $6,000,000. It is believed that it will be possible to remit about $607,000. This would cover $157,000 on the twine factory appropriation and $450,000 on the new capitol.

FARMERS ORGANIZE TOBACCO "TRUST"

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The largest gathering of tobacco growers ever held in Wisconsin is the convention that opened here today. Every district of Wisconsin where leaf is raised is represented. The convention, before closing tomorrow will adopt a feasible plan to control the marketing of the Wisconsin crop, and make arrangements for the handling and storing of the leaf. The convention is a branch meeting of the American Society of Equity, or "farmers' trust."

LICENSES NOT NEEDED

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 8.—State Insurance Commissioner George E. Beedle has sent out a letter to all banks in the state notifying them that they will be permitted to continue collecting premiums for life insurance companies without taking out licenses as agents of such companies.

The ruling of the commissioner is in accordance with an opinion rendered by the attorney general. It was believed several days ago that under the laws passed at the last session of the legislature banks would be required to take out agent's licenses if they collected premiums for insurance companies. Many banks have applied for licenses and some of them forwarded the necessary fee to the commissioner.

"You are hereby advised," says the commissioner in his letter to the banks, "that banks collecting insurance premiums will not be required to procure licenses from this department provided they make no charge or receive no other compensation than the usual and customary exchange."

MAIL DELIVERY LATE

GRAFTED UNCLE SAM

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8.—Postmaster General Meyer has suspended the payment of all moneys due from his department to the Hartford Manufacturing company of Hartford, Conn., and has submitted the matter to the attorney general for such further action as may be deemed proper. The Hartford Manufacturing company up to July last supplied the stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers sold at post-offices.

Chemical analysis of samples have disclosed that the composition of the envelope paper has been below the requirements of the contract, and according to the computation of experts the company in the last four years has wrongfully benefited to the extent of about $425,000.

LOCAL COMEDIANS ARE ENGAGED

They will appear in a comic Swedish-Irish sketch with a trick mule, which is pronounced a great success.

A Criminal Attack

ARCHITECTS DRAWING PLANS

For Churches and Structures Elsewhere—New Yorker to Have a
Summer Home at Galesville

Architects Schick and Roth are at present making plans for an addition to a stone church known as the St. Gabriel cathedral at Prairie du Chien. It will be a very pretty church and the addition will cost in the aggregate of several thousand dollars.

Trempealeau Summer Home.

They are also drawing plans for an elaborate summer residence near the banks of the Mississippi on the plateau overlooking the river, at Trempealeau, for J. R. Stanton of New York city, who has viewed a large part of the Mississippi and selected Trempealeau as his summer home. The home will however also be fitted so that he can reside there in winter if he so desires and will be fitted with furnaces and beautiful fire places. An estimate of the cost of the structure could not be learned. It will be of concrete construction.

Building at Galesville.

A fine brick residence will be erected at Galesville by Mr. Emil Francar who resides in that city, and Messrs. Schick and Roth are now busy upon the plans.

Church at Oelwein.

Plans are also being drawn for a foundation for a stone and brick church known as the Sacred Heart Catholic church at Oelwein, Ia. It is to be one of the prettiest churches in that vicinity.

"Filling" Colman Office.

Contractor Charles W. Noble has begun work upon the reinforced concrete fireproof construction work at the Colman office building. This will be an entirely fireproof structure when it is completed, and the walls and ceilings are now being installed.

County Jail Coal Vault.

Work was completed a few days ago by Contractor Noble upon the installation of a coal vault under the old driveway at the La Crosse county jail similar to the one installed some time ago for Mr. Hirschheimer.

The lights for the coal cellar were placed in the sidewalk and wagons of coal weighing about 5 tons were driven over the walk today when the cellars were being filled.

Whitehall's $16,000 Structure.

Architects Parkinson and Dockendorf are at present working upon plans for the erection of a $16,000 structure for the city of Whitehall, which will be jointly an engine house, library and city hall.

It will be a fine three-story structure of solid brick.

Plans are now ready for figures on the $25,000 Galesville high school building and bids will be open on the 23rd inst.

MCKINLEY RUNNING A BEER GARDEN

Court Reporter Alfred Harrison is entertaining G. F. Kenny, a resident of San Francisco, who has been living for the past four years at Shanghai, China, where he is one of the most prominent of American manufacturers in the orient. Mr. Harrison became acquainted with Mr. Kenny during his recent return from his European tour on his way from London to Montreal.

Mr. Kenny knows Horace McKinley the La Crosse man who evaded the federal officers who wanted him for complicity in the western land fraud cases, and says that McKinley is now making a livelihood by running a summer resort and beer garden in Shanghai.

"Horace McKinley had but a few thousand dollars when he landed after his flight with 'Little Egypt,' and the latter had soon appropriated most of the sum before he finally managed to get away from her," says Kenny.

"He then found that it was a question of business sagacity and started the beer garden, which he is still operating successfully."

SANITARY FLOORS IN CANDY STORES

In compliance with the state law recently passed that candy stores and factories and also bakeries and other manufacturing must install cement floors in their basements, two of the local candy makers have made the necessary improvements.

A new cement floor has just been installed in the basement of the Gassell candy store on Main street and work has just been completed at the candy making establishment of Carl Pfund on Main street.

The necessary improvements will also have to be made at various bakeries where they still have wooden floors, which will permit rats and mice to enter. The law has been in force for some time, but the factory inspectors have only visited and enforced the law at the larger factories. They are now visiting all the smaller places.

MUST STAMP CARDS PROPERLY

Postmaster W. B. Tschanner of the La Crosse postoffice has received notice from Washington, D. C., to the effect that hereafter when persons send letters or postal cards in tissue envelopes they will have to place their stamps on the outside of the tissue envelopes, otherwise they will not be recognized and the letters will be held the same as other mail which has not the required postage upon it.

The trouble has been caused mostly by a large number of persons who send the new postal cards which have tissue of other matter on them which shows through the tissue envelope. There is a small opening on one side of the envelope so that the stamp may be cancelled if it happened to come directly under the hole, but the post mark which is placed upon the envelope is thus put on another piece of matter.

The practice is to be checked and no letters will be allowed to pass through the postoffices unless they have the postage on the outside of the envelope.

Many a golden opportunity has been wrecked for want of genius to know the trick.

PILOT BUMPED BARS TO EDUCATE "TEDDY"

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8.—President Roosevelt knows from personal experience the shallowness of the Mississippi river, according to a report which has reached Washington. The pilot who guided the executive's craft knows every sand bar in the big stream, and it is said that he took precautions on the trip down to Memphis to bump a goodly portion of them just to show they were there. The president's safety was not endangered, it is explained, because the good steamer Mississippi is of the flat-bottom variety common on the river, and could not be turned over by a little gentle rocking. The president when he landed at Memphis, it is stated, was familiar with the location of a large number of the obstructions to navigation between that place and Keokuk, Ia. His experience is declared to have increased his interest in the needs of navigation, and that, of course, was the object sought in giving him a few harmless bumps by a pilot who could do the job without getting stuck fast.

Wise is the man who expects the unexpected to happen and is prepared for it.

TRADE BALANCE BIG; $194,453,162 IN 8 MO.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8.—Attention has been attracted recently to the increased value of the imports into the United States from foreign countries and to the narrowing margin of the value of imports and exports. That margin, as shown by the official statistics, is, however, yet on the credit side of America's ledger and, in the opinion of the government experts, is likely there to remain.

For the month of August, for instance, the excess of exports over imports aggregated in value $1,464,404, and the excess of exports over imports for the eight months ended August 31 was $194,453,162.

POLICEMAN SHOTS TO KILL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Isaac Jaffe, namesake and junior partner of his father, a wealthy wholesale cigar manufacturer of No. 127 Pearl street, Manhattan, was shot dead in Saratoga park, Brooklyn, by Policeman Shuttlesworth of the Ralph avenue police station in the presence of a large throng of men and women. Eye witnesses say the offense committed by young Jaffe, who was but 23 years old, was to break away from the policeman who was clubbing him to no reason whatever.

INJURED BRAKEMAN ENTIRELY RECOVERED

"A. Taylor, the brakeman who was injured Tuesday in the Grand Crossing yards is getting along nicely and will today resume his duties.

Mr. Taylor was in a box car when the engine bumped a train against the car with such force as to knock him down and cut a scalp wound about two inches in length on the right side of his head.

The wound bled profusely. Dr. Fischer, the company surgeon, at once attended to the cut and nothing serious has developed. It was at first feared that he might have fractured his skull.

FOR DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8.—That congress will soon be called on seriously to consider the question of establishing a new department of the government, to be known probably as the department of transportation, is an idea that is rapidly gaining here. Among officials of the interstate commerce commission, the impression is strong that something of this sort will have to be done, and that the sooner it is done the better it will be for the welfare of the public.

CARELESS HUNTER SHOOT HIMSELF

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Paul Reaner, aged 16, son of Casper Reaner, a prosperous farmer, of Verona, accidentally was shot and killed by the discharge of a gun in his own hands while out hunting. He was accompanied by his brother Albert and his father at the time.

Dragging the gun behind him, the butt on the ground and the muzzle in his hand while picking ginseng root the discharge struck the back of his neck and throat. He was dead before his brother, three rods distant, could get to him.

Too much credit is more dangerous than too much money.

Often a woman mistakes audacity in a man for bravery.

A FOG AT SEA.

It Frightens the Timid and Even Discourages the Brave.

This curious picture of an arrival at the Hook of Holland is by C. Lewis Hind: "I awoke suddenly. It was full daylight. My watch indicated 4 in the morning. We should be nearing the Dutch coast. But why had the boat stopped? Why had the devastating scum of the screw ceased? I clambered from my berth and withdrew the curtain from the porthole. Sea and sky had gone. We were enveloped in a dense fog. The wall of the siren roused the passengers. A fog at sea unstrings the nerves of the timid and discourages the brave. I noticed that the landing platform had been extended and that two life lines were coiled upon it. On the bridge were five men. The captain stood in the center with two of his subordinates on either side. They leaned over the rail peering into the wall of fog. I went forward. Three of the crew were bent double over the bows seeking the black mass that might be moving toward us. I could almost fancy I heard the crash, the shouts and the rush of feet.

"The air was damp. I went below. A dozen passengers were gathered around the breakfast table sipping tea and toying with toast. When the siren wailed my neighbor, a girl, who was about to eat a mouthful, replaced the crust upon the table and folded her hands. A woman cried silently. A large, dabbly man took the seat adjoining mine, rested his elbow upon the table and covered his eyes. I thought he was praying, but when the steward advanced and stood inquiringly before him he raised his head for a moment and said, 'Ham and eggs'."

"Those homely and unfamiliar words relieved our depression; also the vessel began to move faster. Soon the siren ceased, and when the captain slouched into the cabin and called for a cup of hot coffee we—well, I think some of us could have danced a jig. I went on deck.

"There was Holland. The sun was scattering the fog. We passed the place where the Berlin was wrecked. Poor! Who minds fear on the morning after, with all the adventures of a new day waiting?"

ENGLISH LOCAL SPEECH.

Peculiar Way the Names of Some Towns Are Pronounced.

We English are horribly phonetic and think nothing of spelling our name Featherstonebaugh and pronouncing it Beecham. If you motor you must twist your tongue to the local speech. There is a quiet village in Kent that is spelled Stalsfield and has achieved the distinction of keeping a railway station at nine miles distance. But if you ask your way to it you must call it Starchfield or you will never find it. Huntingdonshire claims the purest English, as Hanover the purest German. But by the peasants Papworth is called Parpor. And not far distant is another village of beauty. The tourist turned upon a rough road and asked the intelligent laborer where it would take him. "That road," said the honest countryman, wiping his brow, "will take you to 'Ell, sir." The courageous motorist went on and found Ellsworth, which is merely Ells.

The trouble as to the pronunciation of place names makes one very difficult, a correspondent complains, as to venturing upon pronouncing any that one knows only by the eye and not by the ear. Being a Suffolk man, he knows that Waldringfield is Wunnerf, while in the adjoining county of Norfolk Happpisburgh is Hazebro and Hunstanton Hunston, and visits to the west country have revealed that Badgeworthy is Badgery and Cornwood Kernwood. The result is that he would not dare to make a shot at Uttoxeter or Bathampton, never having happened to hear either referred to by a native. After all, there are unfortunate differences of opinion among Londoners, even as to Southwark, Brompton and the two Bromleys.—London Chronicle.

SECRET CHECK SIGNS.

Ways by Which Millionaires Protect Their Signatures.

FOILS AGAINST FORGERIES.

In the Absence of the Hidden Mark a Bank Will Refuse to Pay—An Instance Which Shows How the Secret Sign May Serve Other Purposes.

If all reports be true, then the life of the millionaire, like that of the policeman, is most certainly not a happy one. There is little doubt that a certain class of criminals regard millionaires as legitimate prey, and the millionaires, knowing this, are compelled to contrive schemes to thwart their cunning.

The modern method of doing business by check has to a large extent provided the forger with opportunities for the exhibition of his workmanship. Therefore many of the millionaire's schemes for his protection relate to his signature on checks, and these schemes, which usually consist of secret marks entirely apart from the signature, indicate to the bank the genuineness of the checks and are mostly of a simple character.

Far and away the most clever idea for protecting a check signature is the one utilized by an American millionaire whose name is as well known in Great Britain as in the States.

His idea is an extremely simple one. It is this: On the back of each check he signs he makes a tiny blot, which looks so innocent and natural. But should the blot be missing then the bank will decline to honor the check. This little blot saved the millionaire $50,000 on one occasion alone. Early one morning he was kidnapped. His captors threatened violence unless he received 10,000 immediately. The millionaire thought. Then, after hesitation for a few minutes, he offered to write out a check for the money then and there on the understanding that immediately the check was cashed he was to be released.

The terms were accepted, and the millionaire wrote out the check, but he left out the blot. He certainly had great confidence in his plan, for it was impossible to tell what might happen when the check was presented and payment of it refused.

However, the kidnappers went off to the bank and presented the check. Of course the cashier looked for the blot, and when he saw that it was missing he suspected that something was wrong. Payment of the check was refused on the ground that it was incomplete, and the men went away, followed by officials of the bank, who were fortunately able to rescue the millionaire from the desperadoes' hands.

Another man of great wealth disposes of the signature difficulty in a different way altogether. He protects himself by never giving an uncrossed check, and this fact has duly been notified to the bank.

Each day his bank pass book is examined by his private secretary, and if there is an entry in the book which has no business there then the matter can be looked into at once. Of course if the bankers pass a forged check, then, generally speaking, they must bear the loss themselves.

This system has many disadvantages. It means that the man must never allow his check book out of his possession and must place unreserved confidence in his secretary and his staff.

The private secretary supplies his employer with any cash required, receiving in exchange a duly crossed check for the amount. It is the private secretary, therefore, who has to protect his signature from forgery, and this he does in a very ingenious way. He has had a copy of his signature cut out of cork. This he uses as he would an India rubber stamp, and he claims that it is as impossible to imitate the markings of the cork as it is impossible to duplicate the impression of the human thumb.

At any rate, the novelty of the idea has sufficed to scare off would be forgers, for it is stated that no one has ever attempted to copy the cork signature.

Placing a small grease spot on the check is another protective idea, though the spot has in this case to be precisely in a prearranged position. In a further case the check is never torn out of the check book quite straight. There is always a little piece torn off down part of one side, seemingly in quite an accidental manner.

But still all these devices may fail at times, and in every case the experience and cuteness of the bank officials afford additional protection. Indeed, this experience is perhaps the greatest safeguard of all.—Pearson's Weekly.

Electric Railway Inventor.

The electric railway had many inventors—persons who by various improvements brought the system to its present usefulness. Thomas Davenport, a blacksmith, of Brandon, Vt., is credited with having first suggested the electric railway, although an Italian priest, Abbe Salvatore Del Negro, professor of natural philosophy at the University of Padua, is reputed to have designed an electric toy traction machine of the reciprocating type in 1830. Davenport ran a toy motor mounted on wheels on a small circular railway in 1834, exhibiting this a year later at Springfield and Boston. About half a century passed, however, before the electric railway was made practical for present uses.—Argonaut.

EYES, EARS AND NOSE

Curious Facts About These Organs of the Human Head.

PECULIARITIES OF THE EYE.

The Ball Is Covered With a Tough and Elastic Coat, and the Pupil Is a Deep Hole Filled by a Transparent Lens. The Nerves of the Nose.

Did it ever occur to you to inquire why the eyeball of the eye is white? The reason is rather curious. The blood vessels which supply its surface are so fine that they do not admit the red corpuscles of the blood.

The eyeball is covered with a coat known as the "tunica sclerotica," which is amazingly tough and elastic and covers the entire ball with the exception of the part behind where the optic nerve enters and of the cornea in front. The pupil of the eye is a deep hole filled by a transparent lens and fitted with a most exquisite arrangement of muscles which widen it when the light is dim and narrow it in a strong glare.

Do you know that you have a "blind spot" in each eye? That is, a small portion of the retina is incapable of exciting the sensation of vision when it receives the image of an object. This blind spot corresponds with the artery lying in the center of the optic nerve. By a wonderful provision of nature the blind spots do not correspond when the eyes are directed toward the same object, so they cause no inconvenience, and few beyond doctors and opticians are even aware of their existence.

Practically all persons are right or left eyed, although they may not know it. One eye is nearly always a little stronger than the other and consequently is used more. Of course the difference in many cases is so great that it has to be artificially corrected. In many cases, too, the pupils of the two eyes vary quite considerably in size.

Shortsightedness, it has been proved, is more common among people with light colored eyes than those with dark. At the same time, among gray eyed persons are found those with the most powerful sense of vision of any.

Muscular fatigue of the eye can be measured by the number of involuntary eyelid movements, or blinks, made per minute. Read by candlelight or other insufficient illumination and you will find yourself blinking seven times a minute. In ordinary daylight you blink about three times a minute, but if you work in softened daylight or by powerful yet shaded electric light your eye tires so slightly that you do not blink more than once in thirty or thirty-five seconds.

The eyelashes give most useful aid in shading the eyes. The average person has 100 or 150 hairs on the upper lid and 80 or 100 on the lower, or, say, 450 to 500 lashes in all.

The eyelashes are not permanent. They are constantly falling out and growing again and are entirely renewed at least three times a year. Along their edges the eyelids are provided with a little oily secretion, just sufficient to keep the tears, which wash and keep clean the eyes, from overflowing.

Eyebrows which grow thick and dark are a very sure sign of a good constitution and physical endurance. If they are lighter than the hair, they indicate lack of vitality.

The nose, so far as appearance goes, is the most important feature of the face, and few people are aware of how much its eventual shape depends on character and profession. At ten a boy's nose may be a "pug" pure and simple, at fifteen it may be almost Greek, and at twenty-five it may have developed a powerful bridge and become practically Roman. Almost every great general who ever lived, from Alexander the Great to Wellington and General Grant, had a Roman nose.

It is to the delicate nerves of smell in the nose that we owe our appreciation of a well cooked dinner and fine wine. The palate has comparatively little to do with it.

We have no special reason to be proud of our ears. The human ear is infinitely inferior to the movable, funnel shaped ear trumpet possessed by the horse, by cattle or even by the rabbit or hare. Both men and apes have lost the power of moving their external ears, and there are many sounds, such as the squeak of a bat, which are absolutely beyond the compass of the human auditory apparatus. There is one peculiar point about the ears. Of all our features, they are those most likely to be exactly similar in size and shape.

We have already mentioned that the two eyes of one individual are very seldom alike. The same may be said of the face as a whole. Only 2 per cent of the whole human race are possessed of absolutely symmetrical faces. In seventy-four persons out of a hundred the left side of the face is larger than the right; in twenty-four the right is the larger; in two the two sides are similar. Next time you visit the photographer, remember this fact. One side of your profile will look better than the other.—Pearson's Weekly.

In Haste. Wife—Wait a moment, my dear. I want you to mail a letter. I'm most through.

Husband—Important? Wife—Indeed it is. I sent a telegram to Sister Lucy this morning, and now I'm writing to the telegraph operator in our town, telling him to hurry and deliver it.—New York Weekly.

A Handy Measure.

If you have a pint jug and wish to measure off half a pint with tolerable accuracy it is useless to try and do so by guessing when the jug is half full. A better way is to tilt the jug until the contents just reach to the upper end of the bottom of the vessel and just touch the lip at the lower end of the mouth. In this way the space in the pint jug is practically cut into two equal portions, each half representing the space taken by half a pint.—London Graphic.
